To All Our Customers, Vendors & Friends:

I would like to reassure everyone that Mike Hudson Distributing is continuing business as usual while implementing a number of measures to address the COVID-19 virus. First and foremost is the health and safety of our employees and customers. To accomplish this we are following the CDC's everyday guidelines to prevent the spread of COVID-19. Additionally,

- We are requiring our salespeople to work from home, limiting outside contact, calling for orders and transmitting those orders to the office. If you can't reach our salespeople, our office staff is here ready to take orders.
- All of our employees, including Drivers, have ready access to sanitation wipes/hand sanitizers that they are to use consistently and often. We are also providing our office and warehouse staff with spray sanitizer to wipe down any high use surfaces that employees may regularly come in contact with.
- We are limiting exposure from outside personnel by restricting their movement to limited areas as they are delivering products to us. All meetings with outside personnel are being cancelled. Additionally, we are stressing the 6 foot separation rule between people.
- We have notified our employees that if they are sick they are to stay home.
- Our annual Food Show has been rescheduled for Wednesday, October 28, 2020 at the Sonoma County Fairgrounds.

These are a few of the procedures we have implemented to prevent exposure to the COVID-19 virus and protect the health & safety of our employees and customers.

Finally, as we work to fulfill all of your orders as completely and quickly as possible, please keep in mind the availability of some products may be limited. We too are being "shorted" by some of our suppliers. Products that are in short supply may be allocated to our existing customers based on their previous "normal" orders. If you haven't ordered these products from us before, we will try to fill your orders but only after we have filled customers who have ordered those products previously. We appreciate your understanding as we work to supply everyone with their orders as much as possible.

Thank you for your continued support and understanding. We are here to help. Please contact me or our staff regarding any questions you may have.
